I much appreciate my experience of minoring in the program of International Trade at Fudan University and learning courses of Game Theory and Securities Investment, because I find that finance and economics provides a sound platform for me to give full play of my mathematical and physical competence. Furthermore, admiring "Quants" in the Wall Street, a group of financial engineer who experts in physics and mathematics and engage in proficiently applying mathematical models to analyze quicksilver financial market and tackle complicated financial problems, I desire to grow up into one of them in the future and engage in financial industry. Although I have equipped myself with sound academic attainment of physics and mathematics at the undergraduate education, I am fully aware of my distance from them in financial and business knowledge. Therefore, I yearn for continuing the further study on finance and business to gradually realize my career goal.
